

Rebecca Versaci is a Licensed Creative Arts Therapist, Registered Drama Therapist, and Certified Child Life Specialist specializing in child and adolescent grief and bereavement. In the hospital setting and in her private practice she facilitates creative interventions to help children and adolescents share their grief story, strengthen bonds with family and peers, and practice strategies to navigate grief. Rebecca is currently enrolled in Lesley University's Doctoral Program in Expressive Therapies and passionate about using research to guide clinical practice.